So You Want to be an Anti-Racist Union?

In order to work toward becoming an anti-racist union, racial and social justice must be at the heart of your work as a local leader and/or union member.

This monthly, two-part virtual session will engage in dialogue about moving beyond bandage-type solutions and dig deeper with developing action plans that move toward systemic change.

Learn and share ideas on how to fight white supremacy culture as it comes up in your local chapter, create and build spaces for folx to come together to do the "work," develop and strengthen your equity/social justice team, and get strategies on how to connect to parents and your larger community.
