You Can't Help Kids Learn When They Aren't There

To give kids a better chance to learn, the California Teachers Association is endorsing the state's low-cost "Healthy Families" and no-cost "Medi-Cal for Families" health care programs.

Studies show there is a direct link between children's health and their success in school. The record also shows that:

- Nearly a million California kids eligible for these health care programs aren't enrolled.
- The low-cost Healthy Families program and the no-cost Medi-Cal program give kids a chance to learn.
