

Kent D. Peterson, Ph.D.
and Pam Robbins, Ph.D.
School Culture & Climate

Glenn E. Singleton
Courageous Conversations

Anthony Muhammad, Ph.D.
Leadership & Change

QEIA & PI | SCHOOL | TEAMS

Building a Culture for Success in Our Schools

August 2 - August 7, 2009

THE IPD STRAND @ UCLA
CTA 2009 Summer Institute

Send a team of exceptional individuals to UCLA this summer and help your school build a culture for success in our schools. QEIA & PI professional development funds will cover the entire cost of your team's participation in this week-long, resident program on the UCLA campus.*

Attend as a school team!

The most effective school teams include classroom teachers, parents, school site council members and site and district administrators.

Online registration and conference information available after April 1: www.cta.org/conferences

Existing sources of funding can be used to send your team, including: QEIA funds, Title I, Title II Professional Development, EIA

- Analyze your school's culture and learning climate
- Learn how school climate impacts classroom practice
- Connect parents to your school
- Close achievement and opportunity gaps
- Ensure cultural competency

For program information, contact: Martha Buenrostro at CTA, mbuenrostro@cta.org (650) 577-5181

*$395 - $730 per team member cost includes registration, lodging for five nights at UCLA and all meals. Consider using your school's PI Title II funds or QEIA funds to send a team to the CTA Summer Institute. Participating in the IPD Strand is a perfect example of how your school's Title II or QEIA resources can be used to fund professional development. Optional: University credit available by arrangement with CSU Chico. Additional cost of $60 per unit of credit per participant applies.

California
Teachers
Association
P.O. : Box 921
Burlingame
CA 94011-0921
www.cta.org