

Vote NO ON Prop 30

Prop 30 isn't needed, it's too risky and puts corporate welfare above the welfare of all Californians. That's why educators, civil rights and small business organizations oppose Prop 30.

California Leaders Opposed to Prop 30:

“Prop 30 is a special interest tax grab masquerading as a climate initiative that was specifically designed to go around the minimum school funding law.”

E. Toby Boyd, President
California Teachers Association

“Lyft wants taxpayers to subsidize their company while utility costs skyrocket and consumers and small businesses pay more in electricity bills.”

Betty Jo Toccoli, President
California Small Business Association

“Prop 30 does nothing to guarantee people from communities of color or low-income folks will be able to buy electric vehicles. Just vote NO.”

Rick L. Callender, President
California/Hawaii NAACP State Conference

“Prop 30 leaves public education behind and would make our state's finances more unstable – all so that Lyft can benefit.”

Jeffery M. Freitas, President
California Federation of Teachers

They All Agree Vote NO ON Prop 30

– a corporate money grab disguised as a climate initiative

“Proposition 30’s proponents are clever. They hide behind legitimate issues and even tap into class envy. But this measure is a special interest money grab, pure and simple.”

Los Angeles Daily News

“The state and federal government already have two major programs to stimulate production of, and transition to, zero-emission vehicles... Voters should reject Prop. 30.”

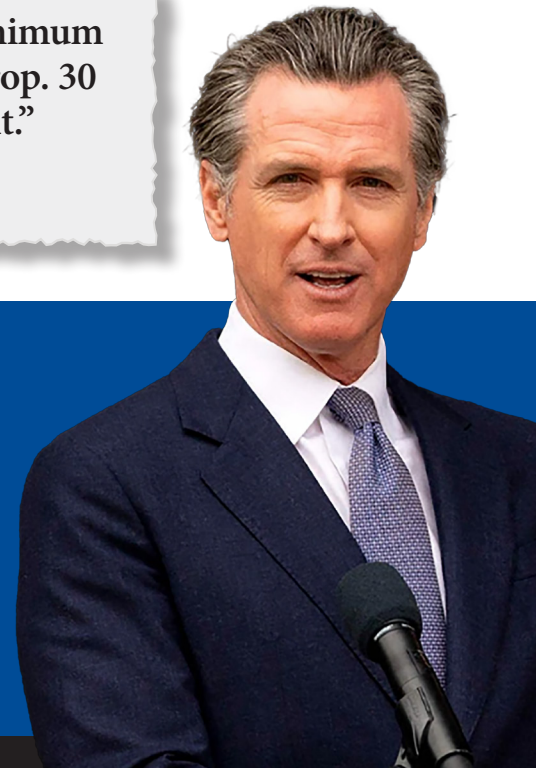

EAST BAY TIMES

“California voters ratified Prop. 98, which specified that a minimum of 40% of the state’s budget must go to public education. Prop. 30 was written in such a way as to circumvent this requirement.”

San Francisco Chronicle

“Don’t be fooled. Prop 30 is a special interest carve-out — a cynical scheme devised by a single corporation ...”

- Governor Gavin Newsom
