ELECTION

Yes on Prop 1: Reproductive Freedom

Protect Women's Rights!

Voting YES on Prop 1 provides women equal access to healthcare services and prohibits the state from denying and individual's right to reproductive freedom.

Governor Gavin Newsom

"California will not back down from the fight to protect abortion rights as more than half the states in this country, enabled by the Supreme Court, ban or severely restrict access. We are ensuring Californians will have the opportunity this November to enshrine the right to choose in our state constitution. And we're not waiting until November to take action, today's executive order *ensures that the state will not hand over patients who come here to receive care and will not extradite doctors who provide care to out-of-state patients here. In California, women will remain protected."

*An order signed June 27, 2022, prevents any information, including medical records and patient data, from being shared by state agencies or departments in response to inquiries or investigations brought by other states or individuals within those states looking to restrict access.

CTA President E. Toby Boyd

"Standing in unity with the educators, students and families we serve, the CTA Board made the policy-based decision to support Prop 1. Our mothers, daughters, partners, sisters and friends should have the freedom and right to determine their healthcare and to make deeply personal decisions on their own, a fundamental human right. Our freedom to make personal and private decisions, not just about our health but also about our families and our lives, is at risk with the recent Supreme Court decision."
